

ADULT LITERACY

Videophonics

This program has combined the phonics method to teach reading with today's technology. Designed particularly for teenagers and adults, the program is proving to be effective, as well, with children as young as nine years old. Research proves that 76 percent of Americans learn better visually than verbally. The combination of today's video technology with a time-tested audio method makes learning to read easier. This phonics-based program includes letters and letter sound exercises, blending exercises, repeat sound exercises, practice exercises, and applications of reading and writing skills. It incorporates action videos and color art.

A complete Videophonics set includes:

- Videophonics Videos (12)
- Skill-Pack Workbooks (12)
- Audio Cassette Tapes (6)
